You Gotta
Love Parents...

Please choose one of the topics from the first page and write using 100 words or less.

These are the ingredients to make a good parent:

2 cups of love
1 spoonful of happiness
5 tea spoons of fun
1 cup of silliness

Instructions

Find a big bowl and cautiously pour love in. It will make the parent very sweet! Add the happiness and stir with spoon of health. Add fun and laugh! This will make the parent comfortable. Mix in silliness and stir once more. Bake at 90°F and take out oven. Enjoy your brand new parent!

Dear Mom and Dad,

You are amazing because, you go to work to help our family get what we need. When I say I can't do something you inspire me to do better and reach my goals so one day I can be better at those things. When we run out of food, water or anything you spend your time and your money up to go to the grocery store for us. When I am sad or mad you are always there for me to talk through it. Lastly, you love me, and I love you.

Love,

Laikin Frank

What does a good parent do? They make your bed when you are tired. They care for you when you get hurt on something. They set the table when you are hungry. They help you with your homework or study for a test. They help you with your cloths if it gets torn. They help you read a book at night so it helps you go to sleep. They help you get your cloths on if you can't get them on. This is what a good parent does.

What makes a Good Parent

Parents are the guardians who love and care for us. They encourage us to try new things and urge us to not give up. When we are afraid or nervous, they comfort us until the fear goes away. They teach us important life lessons and help us to succeed. Parents are the hardest workers we will ever know. They do the extra jobs around the house that we can't do. They are our helpers, teachers and protectors. This is what makes a good parent.
